For Tom, returning to the Hospice as a volunteer feels like coming home.

As we move into autumn and winter, I'm delighted to share the latest news from the Hospice and to look ahead to what promises to be a very special new year.

Thanks to the generosity of our supporters, we have had a strong year financially, helping us continue to provide vital care to local people and their families. You can find out more in our Year in Numbers on page 19.

Our social enterprises continue to go from strength to strength, with Manor House and Studio15 enjoying busy diaries. As we look ahead to Christmas, gift vouchers are available for those wishing to treat loved ones to a little time for themselves. At Manor House, this could mean a relaxing treatment or massage - a lovely way to enjoy some well-deserved rest and relaxation.

Our Christmas Pop-Up Shop will also run from 6th to 8th November at No.17, offering a chance to browse a selection of unique gifts ahead of the festive season.

We're also gearing up to celebrate our 50th anniversary, including the launch of a beautiful limited-edition calendar featuring illustrations commissioned from local artist Jennifer Court. Find out more on page 6.

As hospices across Scotland continue to face funding challenges, we remain committed to securing a sustainable future for hospice care. We were pleased to join Hospice UK in hosting an event during Hospice Care Week at Holyrood, bringing together MSPs and hospice representatives to highlight the vital role hospices play in supporting people and their families, and the importance of fairer funding. You can read more about the event and the calls for a sustainable funding framework on page 5.

Finally, thank you to everyone supporting our Light Up a Life Christmas Appeal, and especially to Tom, Glenn and Rona for sharing their stories. Your support makes an extraordinary difference, and I hope you'll join us for one of our Christmas tree-lighting events in Charlotte Square or Haddington.

Thank you for being part of our Hospice community. Here's to a wonderful autumn and winter, and an exciting year ahead. I hope you'll join us along the way.

P.S. When it comes to delivering world class palliative care, your feedback is invaluable to us. We want to know what's important to you. So, if you have comments or concerns about any aspect of our service please get in touch by emailing info@stcolumbashospice.org.uk.

News from the Hospice

St Columba's Hospice Care joins Hospice UK at Holyrood

We joined Hospice UK at Holyrood for a special Hospice Care Week event, bringing together MSPs and hospice representatives to highlight the vital role hospices play across Scotland.

Holly Smith spoke movingly about the care her mum, Maxine, received at the Hospice. She described how, within days of entering hospice care, her mum was no longer seen simply as a cancer patient, but as a person again, a powerful reminder of the difference compassionate, person-centred care makes to patients and their families.

Jacki Smart, Chair of the Scottish Hospice Leadership Group, highlighted the contribution hospices make to Scotland's health and care system and their potential role in wider public service reform. Alison Thewliss MSP, Minister for Community Care, also recognised the vital work of hospices and reaffirmed the Scottish Government's commitment to a funding framework and pay parity arrangements for hospice staff. The event highlighted the importance of a sustainable future for hospice care across Scotland.

A huge thank you to Irvine Welsh

Our Canonmills Bookshop was recently donated a set of first edition Irvine Welsh books in great condition! Shop manager Andy was quick thinking and managed to use his network to get these rare books signed by the author himself, greatly increasing their value. A huge thank you to Irvine Welsh for kindly signing the books. The collection went under the hammer at auction, raising over £1,000 to support our vital hospice care.

A Fond Farewell to Ocean Terminal

After 8 fabulous years, the shutter has sadly come down on our Ocean Terminal shop for the last time. The shop, and it's phenomenal team of volunteers have raised over £385,000 since opening, and enjoyed many laughs and memories along the way, not least David Flucker's model railway raffles, and a fashion show in the old Debenhams store! The store, and all of it's characters, will be sadly missed, but we thank them all for their hard work and contributions over the last 8 years.

Our 50th year!

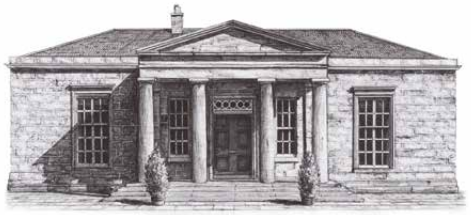

In 2027, the Hospice will be turning 50! To celebrate this phenomenal milestone, we have a full year of events, reflections and celebrations planned. From the glitz and glamour of our Disco event, to the commemorative special edition calendar (available now), there's something available for everyone to celebrate 50 years of St Columba's Hospice Care. We look forward to welcoming you to the festivities.

50 YEARS OF CARE

A sneak peek at our 50th anniversary calendar

To celebrate our 50th anniversary, we commissioned local artist Jennifer Court to create a beautiful, limited-edition calendar, and we can't wait to share it with you!

Available to purchase online, the calendar features illustrations celebrating our Hospice. Here's a sneak peek at Challenger Lodge. We hope you love it as much as we do!

Dragon Boat Race raises over £47,000!

A huge thank you to all our incredible paddlers who helped raise over £47,000 for St Columba's Hospice Care at our Dragon Boat Race in September! From the high-energy warm-up to the nail-biting final, the day was full of energy, team spirit and friendly competition.

Thank you to everyone who paddled, spectated, donated and supported the event, and a special thanks to the local businesses and individuals who helped make it all possible!

Rona and Glenn's story...

Raising awareness, hope and support

When people hear the word hospice, they may think of cancer or the very end of life. But hospice care is about so much more. It can support people living with a wide range of life-limiting conditions, as well as the families and carers alongside them.

Rona Stewart's story is a powerful example. Rona is living with advanced Progressive Supranuclear Palsy (PSP), a rare neurological condition. She and her husband, Glenn, have generously chosen to share their experience to raise awareness of both PSP and the support available to families.

In late October 2019, balance problems, including frequently falling backwards, and slurred speech were among the first signs that something wasn't right for Rona. What followed was a long and uncertain journey of tests, scans and referrals, as her symptoms shared similarities with other neurological conditions, including Parkinson's disease and motor neurone disease.

By December 2023, after years of investigations, her neurologist believed there was a very high likelihood that Rona had PSP and sought a second opinion from a specialist. It was only following further scans that the diagnosis of Progressive Supranuclear Palsy was confirmed.

As Rona recalls: "I'd never heard of it, neither had my husband Glenn."

There is currently no cure or treatment to stop PSP progressing. For many people, life expectancy is typically estimated at three to six years from the onset of symptoms, although this can vary. Today, Rona is at an advanced stage of the disease and needs help with almost every aspect of daily life. For Glenn, who first fell in love with Rona as a teenager and has been by her side for 57 years, life has changed too. The couple have shared a lifetime together, but Glenn is now Rona's full-time carer, supporting her throughout the day and night, with limited social care support available to them.

The impact is felt in the smallest moments of everyday life. Even shaving can be difficult for Glenn, because Rona becomes anxious when she cannot see him. Although he desperately needs time to rest, finding a moment for himself is not always easy when stepping away can cause her distress.

As Glenn describes it, Rona will tell him: "I don't like you being out of sight."

The words capture their lives now: Glenn needs respite, while Rona needs reassurance. They are even having to install cameras around the house so she can feel safe when he is out of sight.Their lives, once shared as husband and wife, have increasingly become shaped around care.

In October 2024, Rona was referred to the Hospice by the NHS Occupational Therapy team. Since then, the Hospice has supported both Rona and Glenn in ways that go beyond medical care, including respite for Glenn, Care at Home support, complementary therapies, a Compassionate Neighbour and help to bank Rona's voice using specialist technology as her speech has deteriorated.

For Rona, that support has also given her the space to focus on something positive: raising awareness and supporting research into PSP. With the encouragement and support of Glenn, their children Cara and Ben, and the generosity of family, friends and the wider community, she has raised more than £10,000 for the PSP Association.

Rona and Glenn's story is a reminder that hospice care is not simply about the final days of life. It can provide practical help, respite, companionship and support for the whole family, throughout the journey of a life-limiting illness.

Dragon Boats Look-back

In September, the Dragon Boats roared back to Port Edgar for another spectacular day of racing! Sitting beneath the Queensferry Crossing and the Forth Road Bridge, the location, and the weather, were perfectly set for a day of competition, food and fundraising, and over 100 people came together to make the day a smash hit!

Over three heats, teams got to grips with their boats, strategies and crew-mates, and as races got faster, the 'teams to watch' began to emerge!

Ultimately, it was the strong team from Livingston James who emerged as worthy winners on the day, after fending off stiff competition from seven other teams.

With face-painting, music, and loads of fantastic food and drink offerings, this was a great day for participants and spectators alike! The final total from this highlight in the fundraising events calendar was over £47,000, a record amount for this event! Keep your eyes on our website for more information on the 2027 event, coming soon!

For Tom Hunter, St Columba's Hospice Care is much more than a place. It is where he and his partner of 24 years, Baz, were cared for during the most difficult chapter of their lives, and where Tom found comfort, friendship and a way forward after Baz died.

Coming Home

Tom's story of love, loss and St Columba's Hospice Care

Baz had recently qualified as a nurse when he met Tom.

"Coming to the Hospice feels like coming home. The team couldn't be dearer to my heart."

Baz was diagnosed with cancer in 2023. As his illness progressed, the support of the Hospice became a lifeline for them both. Through the Hospice's virtual ward, nurses and doctors cared for Baz at home, while the team was always there whenever Tom needed advice or reassurance.

One night, Baz was struggling to get comfortable in bed. Tom still remembers being scared to move Baz, in case he made his pain worse, and the feeling of helplessness he experienced.

The following day, he contacted the Hospice, who arranged for an adjustable Hospital bed to be delivered, and nurses Tracey and Elaine even came that evening to help get everything set up.

And it wasn't only the practical care that made a difference.

Tom remembers a night on the ward when Baz couldn't settle. At 2am, nurse Lianne came in and gently massaged his head until he fell asleep. "So we both had a peaceful sleep that night," Tom recalls. "Is that dedication, or is that dedication?"

Baz died peacefully a few days later, surrounded by the care and compassion that had become so important to them.

The kindness Tom experienced stayed with him. After taking some time to grieve, he returned to his position as a volunteer, first in the café and later on reception and with the Hospice's hospitality team.

Today, Tom is a much-loved face around the Hospice, and his colourful collection of waistcoats is almost as famous as his warm personality.

"I get so much from being here and being able to support other families, I get a lot of comfort from it. It felt great to come back."

Tom also has a lasting reminder of Baz in the Hospice courtyard, a tribute flower with Baz's name engraved on its leaf. He can visit it whenever he is at the Hospice.

This Christmas, Light Up a Life is an opportunity to remember someone special while helping families like Tom and Baz's receive the care, kindness and support they need.

Your gift could help make sure that, when families need us most, St Columba's is there, bringing comfort, dignity and moments of peace when they matter most.

Light up a life for someone you love this Christmas.

stcolumbashospice.org.uk/support-us/light-up-a-life-2026

Every year, we join with hundreds of people in our Hospice community to remember and celebrate the lives of our loved ones. This is an opportunity for everyone to remember someone they love, whether you have any prior connection with the Hospice or not.

During our services, the lights on our Christmas Tree of Remembrance will be lit, symbolising the lives of those we are remembering.

Your gift will not only Light up the Life of your loved one, but it will also help care for our patients and their loved ones this Christmas.

We hope you can join us at one of our Light up a Life ceremonies.

Our Tree of Remembrance in Charlotte Square Gardens

Light up a life

£10 could help provide a Box of Memories, filled with keepsakes for a child or young person who has lost a parent.

£30 could fund a counselling session, offering emotional support to those struggling with grief

£50 could help provide specialised physiotherapy, helping a patient reach a meaningful personal goal

£100 could support Hospice at Home care, allowing patients to spend their final days in the place they love

Dedications can be made throughout the festive period, and our Trees of Remembrance will remain lit in Charlotte Square Gardens (from Monday 7th December) and St Mary's Pleasance Gardens, Haddington (from Wednesday 9th December) into the New Year.

What song supports your wellbeing?

Scan to listen to Grant's regular Wee Scene Variety Show

Hello!

I'm Grant Henderson and I'm a radio broadcaster for Black Diamond FM – the best hobby in the world!

I was diagnosed with multiple myeloma (bone cancer) on 16th July 2024, and was soon admitted into hospital for several months. I had to learn to walk properly again and I couldn't record my music shows for almost a year, which was really tough for me as music is my life. A good friend of mine says that music is the last magic we have in life.

Because a lot of my physical problems are in my back, it's very painful trying to sit but bit by bit I am getting there and I have restarted recording radio shows including the Wee Scene Variety Show on Black Diamond weekly. Music is what got me through my cancer, it's my main driving force. It's always been there in my life and creating shows for people to enjoy makes me incredibly happy. That's where you come in!

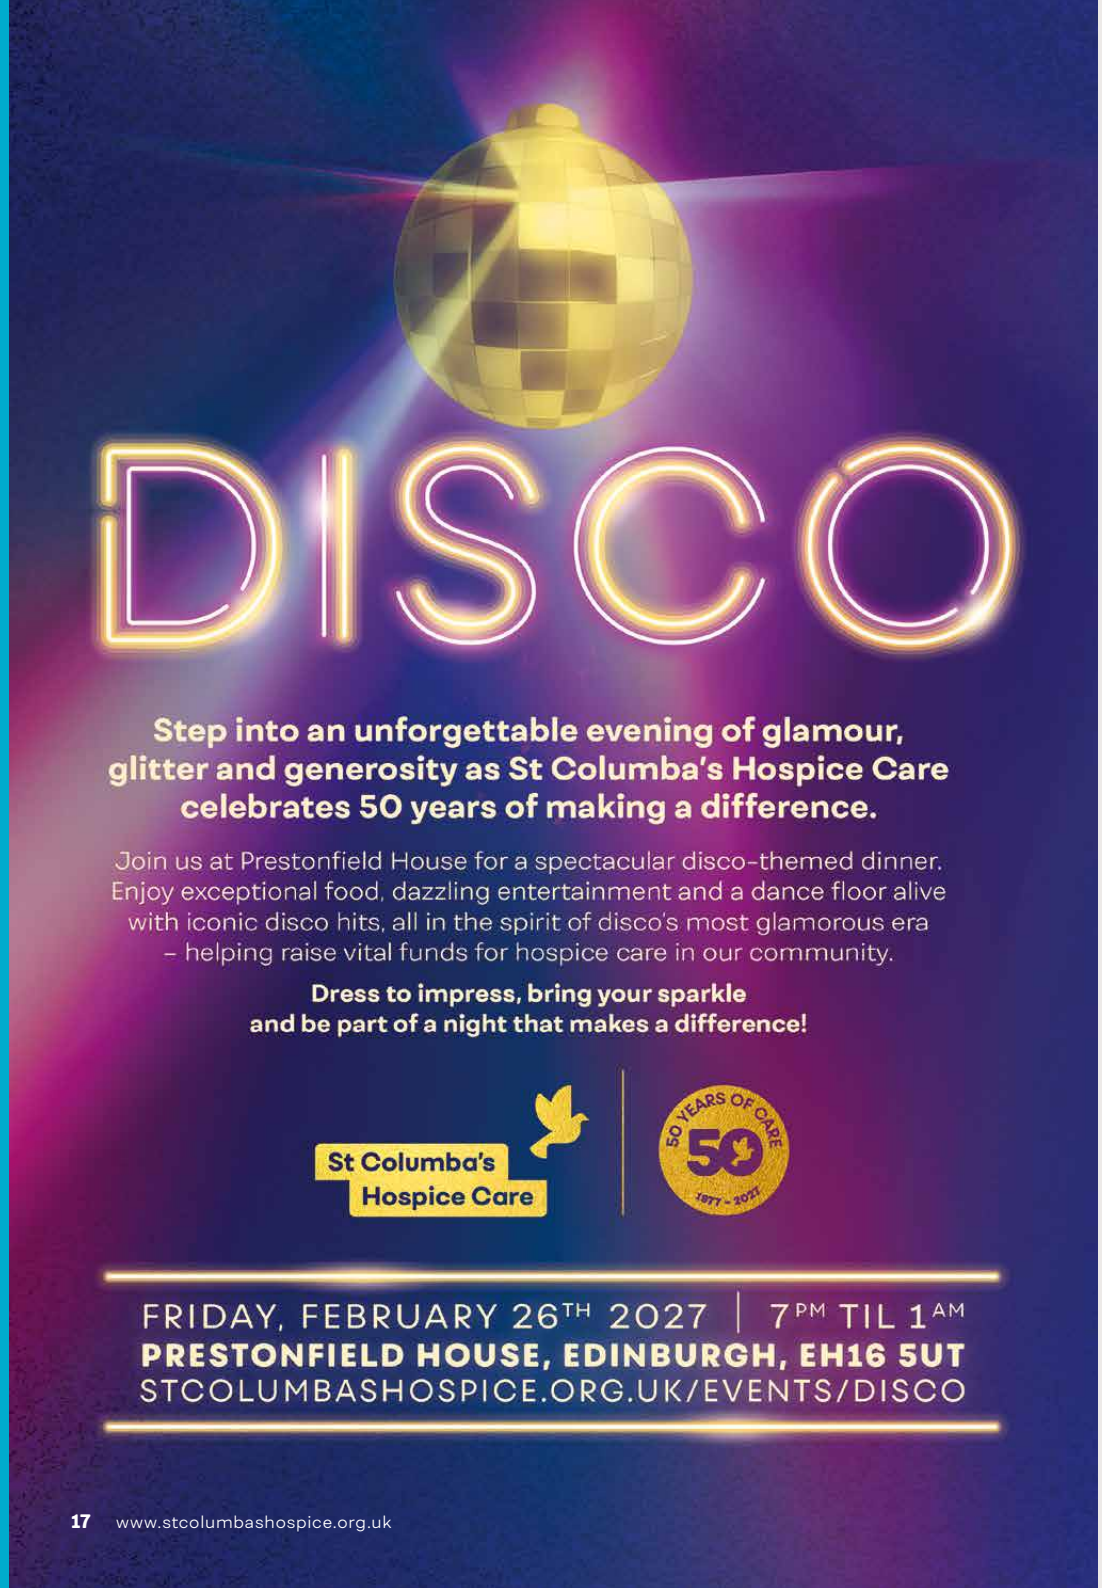

Together with St Columba's Hospice Care, we invite you to share a special song and tell us what it means to you. We will feature these songs and stories on a specially recorded show to celebrate our Hospice community and the power of music.

Your song, your choice!

Got a favourite song you'd love to hear on the show?

If you're visiting the Hospice, grab a card and pen at the Wellbeing reception and add yours today! Alternatively, you can email your request to wellbeing@stcolumbashospice.org.uk

Keep an eye on the Hospice social media for details of how to tune in and listen out for your song on the show.

Meet the team

NAME: Di Alton
ROLE: High Profile Events Lead

With a passion for fundraising and a wealth of experience from Barnardo's and Children's Hospices Across Scotland (CHAS), Di Alton joined the Hospice in 2024. As we look ahead to our 50th anniversary in 2027, Di is excited to make it a landmark year for fundraising!

Tell us about your career journey - what led you to St Columba's Hospice Care?

I started my career in IT before working as a Legal Secretary. Having always been involved in social club committees, I realised I wanted to work in charity fundraising. I got my big break at Barnardo's in 2005, managing a £1 million appeal, where I discovered my love of events. After nine years there and ten years at CHAS, I joined St Columba's in 2024. The Hospice had supported many of my friends over the years, making it a cause close to my heart.

What do you enjoy most about organising events?

I feel incredibly lucky to have a job I love, where I can be creative, work to exciting deadlines and make a real difference. I love taking an event from the initial idea through to seeing guests enjoying themselves while raising incredible amounts of money. Events are about much more than a great night out; they help fund the care we provide to patients and families.

Is there a particularly memorable fundraising moment?

Holly Smith sharing her mum Maxine's story at our Dinner to Make a Difference in February 2025 has stayed with me. Maxine had received end-of-life care at the Hospice and sadly died just weeks before the event. Despite her grief, Holly shared their story on her 25th birthday, inspiring an incredible £12,750 through our pledge moment. She has continued supporting us, including raising a further £35,000 at our East Lothian Dinner. It has been a privilege to witness her generosity.

What makes our events so special?

It's the combination of entertainment, atmosphere, friendly competition and, most importantly, hearing directly from families about the difference hospice care makes. Our events are a team effort, made possible by guests, sponsors, prize donors, volunteers and staff, all helping raise vital funds for our services.

What are you looking forward to in our 50th anniversary year?

2027 is a monumental year for St Columba's, and I'd love it to be a monumental year for fundraising too. We have exciting events planned, including our disco-themed Dinner to Make a Difference and our brand-new event, The Golden Table. I hope supporters, businesses and new faces will join us. Every ticket, sponsorship and donation helps secure the future of hospice care for the next 50 years.

Check out our events calendar on p.20 to see what what else is coming up in 2027!

Meet the MHT and Studio15 volunteers

As we get ready to mark the first anniversary of Manor House Therapies, we're proud to introduce our first cohort of volunteers who will be supporting in our spa and salon, Studio15. These roles mark an important step in building meaningful partnerships with partners across our community including Edinburgh College and Complementary Therapy Scotland, and providing opportunities for students to gain valuable, hands-on experience in professional settings, as well as gaining an understanding of palliative and end-of-life care provided by the Hospice.

LUCY

Volunteer Therapist

I want to gain experience, grow in confidence, and see and feel how a spa operates behind the scenes.

ISSEY

Volunteer Therapist

I love working at the spa because it's a great calm environment to learn and the team are all so kind and supportive towards each other.

AMANDA

Plant Volunteer

I love my role looking after the plants at Manor House as I feel I can make a small, but valuable, contribution to people's wellbeing.

BETHANY

Volunteer Therapist

I have chosen to volunteer at Manor House not only for its beautiful atmosphere but because I believe in the amazing impact massage and relaxation can have on someone's life.

MANOR HOUSE THERAPIES | STUDIO 15 HAIR & NAILS

RENATA

Volunteer Therapist

It's a privilege to start my journey in the spa environment in such an inspirational place like Manor House Therapies. This chance to work as a volunteer lets me gain experience, develop skills, and to work with a wonderful team. Also, I am happy to be part of helping and supporting others in their wellbeing.

OLIVIA

Salon Volunteer

I want to give something back to the Hospice after they helped my family through difficult times.

THEA

Salon Volunteer

I want to give something back whilst doing something I enjoy!

ALEX

Volunteer Sports Massage Therapist

St Columba's Hospice has a special place in my heart due to personal experience. I hope to be involved in a community that helps others and learn from the excellent professionals here. I am incredibly passionate about working with individuals from all backgrounds and all levels to help them recover and be more active.

Christmas Gifting Ideas

Treat your loved ones this Christmas to a gift that keeps on giving with a Gift Voucher for Manor House Therapies or Studio15! Every purchase helps St Columba's to continue providing free palliative and end of life care across the community.

Cycle Inspiration: Miles on the Isles

Lynsey and her husband Gordon decided to cycle all of the Scottish Isles on a tandem bike over 15 days in September to raise funds for the hospice and the Anne Rowling Centre, as Lynsey has Multiple Sclerosis. Hear their story in a quick-fire Q&A, as they made their way to Orkney on the ferry...

What was your reason for this challenge?

Lynsey: I blame Gordon! We were always going to tandem Land's End to John o' Groats and then when Gordon started to investigate the route, he decided it was boring. He always plans our annual family and boys' cycles on the Western Isles. He knows quite a few of the ferry routes and time-tables and also, we were inspired by our friend Iain who did a 60 mile loch swim for charity last year. It humbled us, hence the Miles on the Isles was born - cycle all the Scottish islands that have more than 3 miles of road.

Why did you choose to support the hospice for this challenge?

The hospice is the charity we have supported for the last few years, and we know how much funding needs to be raised to keep this amazing facility open.

What has been your highlight so far?

Lynsey: Seeing the dolphins from the bridge whilst on the ferry to Tarbert and also sadistically being blown off the road down a banking in Lewis and still being clipped onto the bike, whilst being seen by two workmen who were tending to the telegraph poles! Gordon: Being blown up South Uist and Benbecula, and a complimentary whisky in Tarbet.

Will you ever ride tandem again?

Of course, that's how we get to and from the pub! We might have a few weeks off to let the chafing heal though.

Thank you, Lynsey and Gordon for being such dedicated supporters, and helping raise £14,277 to be split between both charities.

You made the first 50 years possible. Help shape the next 50.

As we prepare for our 50th Anniversary in 2027, get in touch to see how your community, sports or social club can celebrate this amazing milestone with us. We'd love to hear from you at fund@stcolumbashospice.org.uk or give us a ring on 0131 551 1381.

East Lothian Spotlight

Picnic in the Park

Thank you to everyone at Picnic in the Park for having us along for their annual celebration. We had a wonderful time and raised an incredible £1047. Special shout out to our wonderful volunteers for giving up their time to help us and to the amazing guests and businesses for supporting!

Flower Arranging

We had a wonderful afternoon with Wild Flower Porty at our Westgate Café and bookshop, getting creative and learning the art of flower arranging from the wonderful Isla. Attendees enjoyed some fizz and baking while getting the chance to create their own beautiful bouquet! To check out more events coming up at Westgate, look at our Instagram @stcolumbasnorth berwick.

Ferra Marra and Friends

Our North Berwick Café Manager Pip hosted a music night with her band, Fearr Marra! Staff, volunteers, friends and family came together to share musical talents with each other all while raising money for the hospice. The event raised a super £534, thank you to everyone at St Columba's North Berwick who helped make it happen!
